

PAPER PRESENTATIONS

10th Biennial Meeting of the British Association for Korean Studies held at Oxford: 7-8 April 1998

7 April

Session 1: Economics and Business (11.00-12.30)

Mr. Serge Perrin (Department of Economics, University of Paris I): 'The emergence of Korean multinational enterprises in European manufacturing'

Dr. Patrick Koellner (Institute of Asian Affairs): 'Going regional: South Korea's growing links with East Asia'

Mr. Jae-Hoon Hyun (School of East Asian Studies, University of Sheffield): 'The impact of European economic integration on the international production of Korean motors'

Keynote Address by Professor Dae-Sook Suh: 'Leadership transition in Korea and the significance for the region' (14.00-15.00)

Round Table Discussion (15.30-17.30)

8 April

Session 2: History and Culture (9.00-10.30)

Mr. Thomas Nelson (Department of Japanese Studies, University of Stirling): 'Japanese-Korean trade in the medieval period'

Mr. Andrew Pratt (Oriental Institute, Oxford): 'Change and continuity in Choson military techniques during the later Choson period'

Ms. Satona Suzuki (History Department, SOAS): 'The Korean response to the Japanese Buddhist missionary activities in Korea before 1910'

Session 3: Literature and Language (11.00-12.30)

Mr. Stefan Knoob (Department of Languages and Cultures, SOAS): 'A cognitive account of Korean detransitive verbs and construction'

Ms. Yeonok Jang (Ethnomusicology, SOAS): 'Reappraisal of p'ansori's origins'

Ms. Grace Koh (Oriental Institute, Oxford): 'Modernism in Korean literature'

Session 4: Politics and Sociology (14.00-15.30)

Mr. J.S.H. Park (Centre of International Studies, Cambridge): 'An examination of the 1994 U.S.-North Korea Agreed Framework and its impact on inter-Korean relations'

Dr. J.M. Allen (Department of History, University of Auckland): 'Korean identity and the "Blazon of Exile"'

Dr. W. Callahan (Department of Politics, University of Durham): 'Reconsidering Sino-Korean relations: Confucianism and identity in Korea'